

Contents

Acknowledgments VII

Abbreviations VIII

Notes on Contributors IX

1 Introduction: Interpreting the Refugee Definition via Human Rights Standards 1

Bruce Burson and David James Cantor

2 Give Way to the Right: The Evolving Use of Human Rights in New Zealand Refugee Status Determination 25

Bruce Burson

3 Island Nation: The Impact of International Human Rights Law on Australian Refugee Law 49

Linda J. Kirk

4 The Human Rights Bases of Refugee Protection in Canada 86

James C. Simeon

5 International Human Rights and US Refugee Law: Synergies and Contradictions 109

Deborah Anker and Josh Vittor

6 International Human Rights and Refugee Law: The United Kingdom 138

Raza Husain

7 Refugee Law Jurisprudence from Germany and Human Rights: Cutting Edge or Chilling Effect? 156

Roland Bank

8 The Search for the Outer Edges of Non-refoulement in Europe: Exceptionality and Flagrant Breaches 180

Cathryn Costello

9 Human Rights in Refugee Protection in Brazil 210

Liliana Lyra Jubilut, Camila Sombra Muiños de Andrade and Camila Marques Gilberto

- 10 Economic Migrant or Person in Need of Protection? Socio-Economic Rights and Persecution in International Refugee Law 229
Michelle Foster
- 11 An Enabling Interpretation of the Refugee Convention: Determination of Refugee Status in Light of the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities 253
Andreas Dimopoulos
- 12 The Right to Refugee Status and the Internal Protection Alternative: What Does the Law Say? 274
Jessica Schultz and Terje Einarsen
- 13 [En]gendering International Refugee Protection: Are We There Yet? 322
Heaven Crawley
- 14 Defining Refugees: Persecution, Surrogacy and the Human Rights Paradigm 349
David James Cantor
- Selected Bibliography 397
- Index 407